Polygamy a Divine Institution.

Not content to rest on the universal sense of civilized nations, as to the immorality of Polygamy, the exponents of Mormonism seek to reverse the decision of three thousand years, and carry the world back to the dark ages of Judaism. Because, say they, Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, were Polygamists, because the practice was then tolerated and they were not swept from the face of the globe; therefore, Polygamy is a Divine Institution, and should not only be now tolerated, but enforced as a duty. To make a plausible argument in its behalf, they quote scriptures most fluently, not to say glibly; and, with an assurance as cool as it is remarkable, challenge investigation.

We do not propose, just now at least, to "take up the glove," but our recollections impress us that the old patriarchs, as recorded in Genesis and the other books of the Pentateuch, are said to have done a good many things, which would hardly meet with the approbation of men at the present day. But our Mormon friends, it seems to us, in their haste to establish the divine character of their peculiar creed, like most other people who try to uphold an error, are constrained to prove too much. It don't do to take things by titbits, and if they insist on taking a nibble they must perforce, logically, "bolt the whole animal."

Now, in our reading of the Scriptures, we have no remembrance of any passage wherein Jehovah commanded, much less enjoined, as a duty the doctrine of plurality; nor have we ever known any of its defenders to point out any such passage. Their argument seems to be briefly this: "Abraham" (for instance), "was a good man, who talked with God. Abraham took Hagar, his wife's hand maid, to wife, while Sarah was alive; God blessed and prospered Abraham, therefore, Polygamy is a Divine Institution." Now, this sort of ratiocination may satisfy some minds, but it hardly meets the case. Abraham took Hagar, not by virtue of any command from God, or with His approbation, so far as the Scriptures enlighten us, but at the instance of Sarah, his wife, Gen. 16, verse 2, "And Abraham hearkened to the voice of Sarai." And afterwards, when Sarai discovered the blunder she had made in this matter, when Hagar commenced "putting on airs," she said to Abraham, "My wrong be upon thee; I have given my maid into thy bosom, and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes; the Lord judge between thee and me;" verse 5. Then we are told that Abraham gave up Hagar into his wife's hands to do as she listed, and that Sarah, by her cruelty, drove her forth into the wilderness, a fugitive; that the Lord bid her return and submit herself to her mistress. Ishmael was the fruit of the connection between Abraham and Hagar. What manner of man he was to be, we learn in the following verses of 16 chapter of Genesis:

11. "And the Angel of the Lord said unto her: Behold thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name Ishmael, because the Lord hath heard thy affliction."

12. "And he will be a wild man; his hand will be against every man and every man's hand against him; and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren."

How was it to be with Isaac, the fruit of his wife, Sarah?

19. "And God said, Sarah, thy wife, shall bear thee a son, indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac; and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant and with his seed after him."

In the 21st chapter of Genesis, it is recorded that after the birth of Isaac, Sarah ordered Abraham to cast out the bondwoman Hagar and her child, and declared that the latter should not be heir with Isaac. Even in those patriarchical days it was discovered that one house wasn't big enough for two women.

12. "And God said unto Abraham, let it not be grievous in thy sight, because of the lad and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for in Isaac shall thy seed be."

So Hagar and Ishmael had to take to the wilderness with a morsel of bread and a bottle of water, and nearly perished of thirst and hunger.

But, as we have said, the argument of the Polygamists proves too much. The same record, (and that is what it really is—an historical statement of facts as they existed and transpired,) the same record which tells us that Abraham and Jacob and the patriarchs had several wives also informs us, "and many concubines had they." There is just as much, in fact just the same authority for concubinage as for Polygamy. Yet, the Latter Day Saints have not yet progressed so far as to openly advocate this, even on the authority of the Patriarchs. On the contrary, they profess a peculiar abhorrence for it, and denounce (very properly) the highest penalties against it.

When Abraham, full of years, came to give up the ghost, the record, Genesis, chapter 25, says:

5. "And Abraham gave all that he had unto Isaac."

6. "But unto the sons of the concubines, which Abraham had, Abraham gave gifts, and sent them away from Isaac, his son, while he yet lived eastward, unto the east country."

But enough for one day. In our view the endeavor to make out Polygamy a Divine Institution, is a perversion as well of the Scriptures as of the natural instincts of the human race. It is only by torturing Holy Writ that even a plausible argument can be brought to bear in its favor. We forbear to pursue the subject further. In the eye of the law, marriage is a civil contract, and the law has very clearly defined and pointed out what is legal and valid marriage, and what is invalid and criminal. All nations, even the Jews from the earliest antiquity, have claimed and exercised the right to regulate marriage by law. The United States alone of civilized nations permits its laws to be openly violated, and thus tolerates a practice condemned alike by the universal sense of mankind and the law of the land.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 8.

In the Senate, the Chair submitted a communication from the Secretary of War, covering a statement from General Sherman respecting the safety of overland travel.

Howe presented a resolution passed by the Wisconsin Legislature, instructing the Senators from that State to vote for aid to the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Wilson introduced a bill granting all the District public lands in aid of the public schools in the District of Columbia.

Henderson offered a resolution requesting the Secretary of War to inform the Senate whether any armed expeditions had been sent against the Indians in the Western Territories, and if there had, under what orders and against what tribes.

The bill for the construction of a ship canal around Niagara Falls was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

A bill re-annexing the city of Alexandria to the District of Columbia was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate adjourned.

In the House, Fernando Wood asked leave to offer the following:

Resolved, That this House extends its sympathy to the people of Ireland in their present struggle for Constitutional liberty, and, while believing that no despotic Government of Europe should be allowed to establish monarchical institutions in America, we should all foster and promote the spread of Republican institutions in Europe.

The rules were suspended—103 to 13—and the resolution received. The previous question was moved but not seconded—33 against 86. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, when appointed.

Price moved to suspend the rules to enable him to introduce a joint resolution to apply the surplus funds in the treasury (over $70,000,000) to the redemption of compound interest notes. Lost—yeas, 66; nays, 36—not two-thirds.

Stevens moved to suspend the rules, in order that he might introduce a resolution to re-appoint a Committee of Fifteen on Reconstruction. Lost.

House adjourned.

Washington, March 8.

The President and Cabinet are making the necessary arrangements for putting the Military Government law in operation.

New York, March 8.

The excitement among the Fenians, under the news from Ireland, is intense. Their headquarters are thronged. A large number of Irish-Americans have tendered pecuniary assistance, and several are booked for the Fenian army. It is ascertained that Stephens is still residing in Brooklyn, having nothing to do with the present struggle.

Washington, March 8.

The statement of General Howard, Commissioner of the Freedman's Bureau, transmitted to the Senate by the Secretary of War, states that 32,622 whites and 24,238 colored people in the South will need food from the Society before the next crop can relieve them. The number of rations required for one month is 1,070,000; for five months, probable time required, 8,535,000; at 25 cents per ration, estimated cost, $3,133,750. Of this $625,000 has already been appropriated, leaving $1,508,750 to be provided.

Marion, March 8.

The whole of the Virginia and Tennessee Valley has been visited with the heaviest freshet within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The whole valley, from Lynchburg to Chattanooga, is swept by swollen streams. The railroads are badly damaged and trains are all stopped.

New York, March 8.

A Washington special says Price's resolution will be presented next week. If passed, it will compel the sale of $30,000,000 of coin.

In the Senate there is an indisposition to touch the financial question at this time.

Certain members will present next week, a resolution to allow 50 per cent. of tariff duties to be paid in currency.

New York, March 9.

A letter from General George H. Thomas is published, declining the nomination for President, proposed by the Union men of Tennessee. He says, as he is nothing but a soldier, he can only serve his country in that capacity.

A Times special says a delegation of prominent Virginians are in Washington for an interview with the President and Attorney General, and to obtain from the latter the decision authorizing military commandants to appoint judges of election, for the election of delegates to a convention, provided for under the reconstruction bill. Judge Ould, who denounced in the Virginia State Senate the proposition to call conventions, and all its supporters, as traitors to the South, is one of the delegation. The proposition having been passed by both Houses, notwithstanding his opposition, this delegation seek to get control of the appointment of a judge of election so as to influence the choice of officers.

Senator Wilson's bill, now before the Senate, will probably pass at once, and thus settle the question as to who shall control the preliminary elections.

The selection of military commandants for the Southern States has not yet been made. It is not true that General Grant recommended Sheridan, Sickles, and others. Gen. Sickles is not eligible, as his rank in the regular army is Colonel.

The Senate is disposed to remain in session for twenty days, in which time the President is required, under the Tenure of Office law, to send in his nominations, and then adjourn till October or December.

A Times special says that General Fullerton, now Postmaster at St. Louis, who has been dodging the subpœnas of the Judiciary Committee in the impeachment matter for about a month, is to be brought to Washington by an officer.

The Tribune's special says the President, yesterday, returned to the Senate the name of Mr. Cowan for Minister to Austria. It was not rejected, but laid on the table. His friends assert that he can be confirmed.

The name of General Bartlett, as Minister to Stockholm, was also sent in. Senator Sumner will oppose his confirmation.

The World's special says that at the Senatorial caucus, last evening, it was agreed to continue in session until the President had put in operation the Military Reconstruction law, and then adjourn.

The Herald's Dublin correspondence, of February 23d, says the greatest precautions to guard against any attempt at an outbreak in Dublin are still kept up. Soldiers are rarely let out of the barracks, and not at all during the night. Meetings of the Privy Council are held almost daily, presided over by the Lord Lieutenant, and a daily report of the state of the country is submitted to them.

Washington, March 9.

Senate—On motion of Conness documents on file in relation to the reciprocity treaty between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands, were referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Trumbull reported a resolution appropriating one million dollars for the relief of destitute persons in the Southern States of any and all classes, to be expended under the superintendence of the Freedmen's Bureau. Trumbull said that General Howard had called on the Judiciary Committee this morning and testified that unless something of the kind was done, there would be great starvation among the disloyal portion of the South. Former appropriations were applied to provide for the actual wants of the freedmen and loyal refugees, but another appropriation was necessary for the relief of the destitute disloyal. After a long debate the resolution passed.

Cameron introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to inquire what steps were necessary to prevent foreign governments from introducing, upon this continent, institutions and governments contrary to those established by the founders of this Republic. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs. Adjourned.

Washington, March 9.

It appears to be conceded to-day that the session of Congress will continue for several weeks, but with the understanding that no new financial measures will be agreed upon.

The officials at Alexandria, Va., say they are ready for another election with negro suffrage.

Fortress Monroe, March 9.

Three of the most prominent merchants of New York, Swiss importers, after a general tour of observation of the Southern States, had an interview of several hours with Mr. Davis, yesterday, and, on leaving the Fort, expressed surprise that Davis was so comfortably provided for.

Washington, March 8.

The Secretary of War transmitted to the Senate to-day, General Sherman's report on the subject of protection for the overland route, together with copies of general orders issued by General Pope, last year, for the regulation of travel across the plains. The General says these Orders, with some modification, will be enforced the present year, as under them a vast amount of merchandise and a great number of people last year passed safely to their destination. For the year 1867, Sherman proposes to apply the general rules laid down by Pope to the four principal routes, viz: from Minnesota to Montana, via Forts Abercrombie, Wadsworth, Rice, Berthold, Buford, and San river, with two new stations between Wadsworth and Rice; second—the great Platte route, by which full nine-tenths of the travel to Montana, Utah, California and Colorado has hitherto gone, will be given increased protection; and shorter time made to Virginia City from Laramie, via Reno, Kearny, etc.; third—the Smoky Hill route to Colorado, via Forts Riley, Hooker, Hayes and Wallace, and thence to Denver City; fourth—the Arkansas route, from Kansas and Arkansas via Forts Serre, Larned, Dodge, Lyon, etc., to Fort Union and New Mexico. Sherman also proposes to leave post commanders a little more latitude of judgment as to the strength of emigrant parties passing out.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

London, March 7.

Railway trains are again running between Dublin and Cork.

Dublin, March 7.

Reports from Cork and Waterford represent that no signs of disturbance are apparent there.

London, March 8.

Several Irishmen and Englishmen publish a proclamation, purporting to come from the Government of the Irish Republic. It declares that after ages of outrage, in the face of justice and reason, they have at last resolved to appeal to arms in order to raise themselves from serfdom, and establish a National Union to ensure public safety and political freedom, and bring about a separation of Church and State. As Republicans they appeal to mankind for sympathy and support.

Dublin, March 8.

During the heavy storm which prevailed in this vicinity night before last, the insurgents who took refuge in the mountains are reported to have suffered severely from cold and exposure. Donohue, the leader in the fight at Tallaght, and three of his companions, are dead. The roads running into Waterford are torn up. Large quantities of ammunition and materials for the manufacture of Greek fire have been seized by the soldiery and police in various parts of the country.

London, March 8.

Troops are rapidly being dispatched to Ireland from all available points.

Dispatches received during the day from Dublin, Cork and other parts of Ireland, give the following intelligence: A body of Fenians, 1,500 strong, are reported threatening Tipperary. The troops had a battle with a body of insurgents near Killainaire, county Limerick, defeating them, and killing one and wounding one, besides taking thirty prisoners. Among the latter was the Fenian General Lance.

A force of rebels 300 strong were also beaten by soldiers at Clonmel, losing several killed, eighteen taken prisoners, and a quantity of arms.

The Fenians have stripped the houses of guns and other weapons, and armed bands of men are moving through the counties of Tipperary, Clare and Limerick, and have frequent conflicts with the police. Incendiary fires are frequent in the city and county of Limerick.

London, March 8.

A correspondent of the London Times says that Ireland is filled with Americans, and argues that severe punishment in their cases is imperatively necessary, but adds that it is very difficult to apprehend them, as the people, though they give them no aid, refuse to betray them. He concludes by saying that the present rising is considered a failure in Dublin.

Paris, March 8.

De Girardin has been fined 5,000 francs by the Correctional Court, for violating the law regulating the Press. He has appealed the case.

London, March 8.

Dispatches from the East report that the Christians in Thessaly have entered into negotiations with the Turks for securing religious independence.

Russia has sent $55,000 to aid the suffering Christians of Creto.

London, March 9.

Dispatches from Ireland, to-day, say tranquility is restored throughout the province of Leinster. There has been no recent disturbance in the county of Kerry, the scene of the abortive outbreak of last month.

Dublin, March 9.

A dispatch from Waterford states that the Galty Mountains, on the border of Tipperary and Cork counties, are swarming with Fenians, and it is feared an attack will be made on the town of Tipperary, the inhabitants of which are disaffected and strongly disposed to help them.

London, March 9.

The reorganization of the Derby Government has been completed. Duke Morlborough becomes Lord President of the Privy Council, in place of the Duke of Buckingham, who was appointed Colonial Secretary, and the Duke of Richmond will take the Board of Trade.

London, March 9.

Dispatches from Dublin state that small bands of Fenians are patroling the counties of Cork, Waterford, Tipperary, and Limerick, arming the people into their ranks, and committing robberies everywhere. Taverns in the City of Cork will be closed every evening at nine.

Stephens is still in Paris.

London, March 9.

The funeral of Artemus Ward took place to-day. The remains were buried in Kensal Green, and were followed to the grave by a great number of friends.

Dublin, March 9.

A dispatch from Waterford reports that the Fenians have appeared in force at Devil's Bit Mountain, Tipperary county. Troops, with artillery, were sent to dislodge them, but the result is unknown. The insurgents muster in strong force, particularly in Tipperary county. No bands have yet appeared in the county of Wicklow.

Reports from Drogheda say no further disturbance there up to this hour. Twelve of the foremost rebel leaders have been captured.

London, March 8.

It is stated that the leading powers of Europe have united in urging upon the Ottoman Government the immediate enforcement of the provisions of the treaty of '56, and the granting of liberal concessions to Christian subjects.

FROM THE WEST.

(From the Reveille.)

San Francisco, March 3.

Last night Benjamin Swords, an old resident of California, attempted to commit suicide by swallowing a large dose of laudanum at Ned Jennings' saloon, on Sansome street. The attempt was discovered soon after it was made, and much against the patient's will his stomach was relieved of the poison.

The foreclosure suit of Henrietta M. Garwood vs. J. S. Glover et al. was decided by Judge S. H. Dwinelle, in the 18th District Court, yesterday. Judgment was ordered in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of twenty-four thousand eight hundred and seventy-four dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent. per month, together with costs and charges; also that a decree of foreclosure and sale, as provided for in the complaint, be ordered entered.

The bark Vedette, which arrived in port yesterday from New Castle, New South Wales, reports that on the passage from Puget Sound to Australia, July 16th, Wm. Post, second mate, fell overboard and was lost. All efforts to save him proved fruitless. He was a native of Canada.

The Idaho was detained yesterday, on account of having no Columbia river bar pilot engaged for the trip to Portland. She sails on Tuesday next.

The steamship Montana, from Portland, arrived at 9 o'clock last night.

San Francisco, March 4.

Steamer Active, from Victoria, with $20,000 in treasure, arrived last night.

Carriboo advices state that the excitement continues on Canadian creek, but there is no confirmation of the reported gold discoveries. There are rumors of a rich strike at the South Fork of the lake, near Cedar creek.

The total number of deaths in this city for the week ending March 2d, was fifty-six.

The San Francisco and San Jose Railroad Company having repaired the damage to the track by the recent flood, commence running regular trains again to-day.

Legal tenders, 72½@73.

San Francisco, March 5.

The case of J. H. Baird et al. vs. Charles P. Duane et al., which has been on trial for the past two weeks, was submitted to the jury on Saturday evening, and the verdict was in favor of the plaintiffs.

Mr. C. T. Meader, of Stockton, in a card in the Bulletin, says: Having noticed in your weekly issue of March 2d, a communication signed "Fair Play," stating I was a candidate for Governor, I take this occasion to inform you that I am not a candidate or aspirant for that high position.

The telegraph reports the price of gold at New York at 139, both on Saturday and this morning.

ARMY BULLETIN.—The Washington Chronicle of February 16th has the following:

Captain and Assistant Quartermaster J. H. Morgan, military storekeeper of the ordnance department, is granted thirty days' leave.

Second Lieutenant E. W. Stine, 21st infantry, is ordered to join his company in the department of the Potomac.

Captain Charles Newbold, the order relieving him from duty in the military district of New Mexico is suspended until early spring.

Colonel H. G. Gibson is granted seventeen days' delay while en route to join his battery, the 3d heavy artillery.

Brevet Colonel J. Harden, 15th infantry, is ordered to report to the Adjutant General, to submit an improved company desk of his invention, for adaptation to army use, and on the completion of his duty to return to his station.

During the temporary absence of Daniel T. Meller, Brevet Captain James Chester, First Lieutenant 3d U. S artillery, will, in addition to his other duties, act as assistant adjutant general of the department of North Carolina.

Agreeably with the request of the Assistant Commissioner of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, and with a view to a more efficient and economical administration of said bureau in the State of Texas, Major General Griffin, commanding the military district which comprises that State, has ordered that all military posts or stations throughout the same, where there are no agents appointed, the military officer in command, in addition to his other duties, will assume and perform the duties appertaining to the position of sub-assistant commissioner for said bureau.

General Griffin, in general orders, dated the 2d instant, at Galveston, Texas, says: "The valuable services of Major A. G. Hogan, 114th United States colored troops, and the detachment under his command, in engaging and routing a troop of banditti at Pugtown, Texas, (forty miles from the Neuces river,) on the morning of the 8th ultimo, are hereby acknowledged. The conspicuous gallantry displayed in the charge made on this force, resulting in killing three of their number, wounding others, scattering the band, and capturing twelve of their horses, is especially commended."

A Washington correspondent, under date of February 3d, says:

It is known to persons resident here, though perhaps not to the country generally, that John H. Surratt had a brother Isaac, who was in the rebel army during the war. It has just come to light that this brother went to Mexico immediately after the downfall of Richmond. Nothing was known of him till October, 1865, when General Sheridan, then, as now, at New Orleans, learned that he had appeared in Monterey, and crossed into Texas, with the avowed intention of coming to Washington to assassinate the President. General Steele, in command on the frontier, very soon confirmed this intelligence, and Secretary Stanton thereupon felt justified in placing a guard about the White House, which was kept there for some time. No intimation of the matter was given to the President, as it was feared he would not receive such protection. He finally got an idea into his head that the guards were detectives, and called Secretary Stanton to account in violent language. This led to an explanation and the subsequent withdrawal of the guards.

News Items from Utah.—The only western exchange that reached us yesterday was the ... of March 6th, from which we glean the following items:

The miners of San Antonio are alive and full of energy, and are putting forth brave ... to develop their claims. We learn from ..., who is just in town from that district, that the small prospecting mill of the Rigby Company, situated at Indian Springs, is completed and now running. It has a battery of four stamps, of 500 pounds each, one reverberatory furnace of the ordinary size, and one amalgamating tub, and it is estimated that it will reduce two tons daily. The company is pushing its tunnel into Potomac Hill, which is now 300 feet long, besides sinking an incline on the summit, from which they are taking out good ore. Mr. George Seitz, the superintendent of the Liberty mine, in which he is also a large owner, is doing remarkably well. He has erected a good whim over the mine—which, by the way, is the first in the district—and has laid a substantial track the entire length of the incline, which is 250 feet deep, and a couple of stout cars will carry up the ore and debris. He has already extracted a considerable amount of fine ore. In a level, which is being run 200 feet below the surface, they have just developed the richest ore yet procured from the mine. The miners generally are very hopeful of the ultimate success of the mines of their long-neglected district.

The snow lies quite deep on the summit beyond the eastern boundary of the city, rendering wheeling rather difficult. On Saturday evening the Belmont stage was put on runners between the Blackbird ranch and the summit, and thus slid easily into town. It left this morning in the same manner. The driver reports very little snow in Smoky Valley, and in Charnock's pass through the Smoky Valley range of mountains into Monitor Valley and thence southward, it rained on Friday and Saturday, when snow fell here.

W. B. C. Harker, a former and long resident of this city, arrived in town on Saturday night by the Belmont Stage. Mr. Harker has been at Silver Peak for upwards of a year in charge of the mines of the Great Salt Basin Company, which are on the eve of being worked in a comprehensive manner. The property includes a number of the finest silver mines in the Silver Peak district, besides the gold-bearing ledges of the Red Mountain district, and constitutes one of the grandest in the State. It has been lying idle for a considerable period. In the meantime plans for its extensive and perfect working have been matured, and will be in successful operation before the passage of the present year.

TERRIBLE SCENE IN A FRENCH PENITENTIARY. An account of the revolt in the French Juvenile Penitentiary of St. Anne, has already been given, but all the horrors of the scene were not told. The prison contained, on the 28th of September last, 288 prisoners, who plotted a revolt and accomplished it on the 2d of Octoberr They drove out the turnkeys, released those who were in durance for bad behavior, pillaged and drank and indulged in the usual saturnalia. Then they wanted something else to do, and the ringleader, Condurier, proposed that they should shut up in the storehouse those who would be likely to betry them, and then set the building on fire; and further, to make things secure, that one of the worst of the revolters, who happened to be drunk, should stand opposite the door of the storehouse while it was burning, with knife in hand, to stab any who attempted to escape.

This was immediately agreed to; and the victims, fourteen in number, having been induced to enter, a pile of papers were heaped up, saturated with petroleum, and set on fire. The room was soon in a blaze, but all the doors and windows being strongly barred, there was no possibility of egress except by the one door, at which the boy Allard stood with his knife. One poor little fellow, named Garibaldi, made a desperate attempt to pass the flaming portal, but was stabbed three times, and hurled back bleeding into the fire. A watchman, who heard the screams of the victims and ran to their assistance, was set upon by the young demons who presided at the auto da fe, and flung into a trench. Of course the building was burned to the ground, and when assistance came, two days afterwards, the bodies of the twelve or fourteen victims had been reduced to ashes. For this horrible crime four of the accused have been condemned to the galleys for life.

JEWISH. The Rabbis of Europe are to assemble in council in Paris, next year, in order that the great Sanhedrim may take place in conjunction with the Universal Exhibition. The Central Jewish Committee of Paris has taken the initiative of the meeting, which will be specially called on to decide the following questions: The abolition of the prohibition of certain articles of food; the suppression of polygamy that exists among the Jews in Algeria; and the recognition of female children as equally qualified to inherit, in that country, with males.

ONE kind of bonbon, invented by Girardin, the celebrated confectioner of Paris, named les ephemeres, has become especially famous. "Sir," said an epicure who had tasted this chef d'œuvre, "your achievement is not a bonbon, it is a caress!" "Upon my word of honor," said another, "one might swear that he had all the flowers of Paradise in his mouth!" "For my part," said a youth, timidly, who had been present at the trial, when I tasted it for the first time, I could have believed that Theresa was kissing me!"

A WITTY editor, who has just failed, says he did it with all the honors of war, and retired from the field with colors flying—sheriff's flag fluttering from two windows and the door, and a white flag hung out from his person, as a token of surrender.

A SINGULAR innovation was made at a funeral in Paris the other day. Instead of laudatory discourse in honor of the individual interred, one of his friends read extracts from a newspaper in his praise.

ANKER'S

ONE-PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

F Street,

SIGN OF THE GILT ANCHOR!

DENVER, COLORADO,

Is not the 'Largest," but the MOST ELEGANT CLOTHING HOUSE in Colorado.

And from the East and to the West,
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none as yet was found to say,
That he ever gave him a call.
He sells for cash,
And nothing conceals.
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.
Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep,
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at 'ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
